About the Author

DAVID BERUBE is a Ruby developer, trainer, author, and speaker. He's used both Ruby and Ruby on Rails since 2003, when he became a Ruby advocate after he wrote about the language for Dr Dobb's Journal. Prior to that he worked professionally with PHP, Perl, C++, and Visual Basic.

David's professional accomplishments include creating the Ruby on Rails engine for CoolRuby.com (http://coolruby.com), a site that tracks the latest Ruby developments, and working with thoughtbot (www.thoughtbot.com) on the Rails engine that powers Sermo's America's Top Doc contest. He also worked with the Casting Frontier on the Ruby on Rails backend that is powering their digital casting services for Los Angeles. He has worked on several other Ruby projects, including the engine powering CyberKnowHow's BirdFluBreakingNews search engine.

David's writing has been in print in over 65 countries, in magazines such as Linux Magazine, Dr Dobb's Journal, and International PHP Magazine. He's also taught college courses and spoken publicly on topics such as "MySQL and You" and "Making Money with Open Source Software."

Feel free to contact the author via his website at http://berubeconsulting.com or via his email address at djberube@berubeconsulting.com.

Acknowledgments

I'd like to thank my parents and my sisters; I can't imagine writing this book without them. I'd also like to thank the many friends that have supported me; in particular, I'd like to thank Wayne Hammar and Matthew Gifford.

I'd also like to thank the vast array of professional associates I've worked with and learned from, and in particular I'd like to thank Terry Simkin, Ted Roche, Bill Sconce, Bruce Dawson, K.C. Singh, and Joey Rubenstein. Thanks to Peter Cooper for introducing me to the possibility of writing this book.

Finally, I'd like to thank my editors, originally Keir Thomas and later Jason Gilmore, as well as my technical reviewer Yan Pritzker, my project manager Richard Dal Porto, and my copy editor Candace English.
